About me

Me in a nutshell.

I am an IT professional (Service Now Developer) based in Noida working as an Analyst for HCL Technologies, Headquarter. I am simple, confident, career oriented, responsible, and warm individual. I did my graduation in Instrumentation Engineering from Kurukshetra University.

Originally, I am from Kurukshetra but had upbringing in different cities like Cochin, Mumbai & Delhi as my dad was in Defense (Indian Navy). Currently I am residing in Noida.

I am polite, cultured, family-oriented boy and shares great bond with my family. I would be treating elders with all respect and would expect the same. People describes me as fun loving, social, and kindhearted. I believe in living the life at its utmost and making every minute memorable. I believe in commitment, loyalty & trust from both sides is necessary to make marriage successful. We are looking for a mature and understanding girl. A friend, companion with whom I can spend my whole life.
